A.—IMPORTS.

1. There shall be levied and collected upon goods imported into the Protectorate the several duties set forth in Tables I, II, III, IV and V hereto.
2. The value of goods upon which duty is leviable ad valorem shall be the value of the goods at the place where such goods are purchased as shown on the genuine invoice produced to and accepted by the Comptroller of Customs, together with any purchasing commissions, the cost of packages ordinarily used at the place of purchase, the extra cost of packing and packages for export, carriage to the port of shipment and all other expenses incidental to placing the goods on board the ship, together with the cost of freight, insurance, bank charges, interest, and all other charges up to the time of discharge at Beira: provided that in no case shall the value for purposes of duty be less than the cost of the goods to the importer on board ship at the port of shipment plus 10 per cent., or in the case of goods imported into the Protectorate from contiguous territories, the cost of the goods to the importer at the place of despatch.

The Comptroller of Customs may allow trade discounts recognized in the particular trade and shown on the invoice to be deducted from the value for duty, but no further deduction may be allowed on account of any cash or special or sample discount or of any arrangements concerning the export or the exclusive right of sale of the goods or any consideration by which a reduction in value results.

Customs Duties	IMPORTS—(continued).		Govt. Notice No. 86 of 1931
	3. Whenever goods are imported into the Protectorate under such conditions as render it difficult to determine the value thereof in as much as— (a) such goods are not sold for use or consumption in the country of export; or (b) the right of using such goods, but not the right of property therein, is usually sold or given; or (c) such goods are usually or exclusively sold by or to agents or by subscription; or (d) such goods are sold or imported in or under any other unusual or peculiar manner or conditions, the Comptroller of Customs may determine the value of such goods for purposes of duty in accordance with the provisions of this schedule.
	4. All invoices for imported goods manufactured in a foreign country and purchased in their country of origin shall be in English and shall indicate the value of such goods as expressed in the currency of that country, and also the value of the same as expressed in British currency, the latter value being computed at the rate of exchange for the time being current between the two currencies at the date of purchase, and such rate of exchange shall be clearly stated on the invoice.
	5. Where the importer is unable to produce particulars of all or any of the charges hereinbefore referred to the Comptroller of Customs may accept payment of import duty on such valuation additional to the purchase price as in his opinion shall represent the actual cost of the goods as defined in paragraph 2 of this schedule; but where the importer of the goods declines to accept such valuation for the purpose of assessment of import duty, entry of the goods may be permitted by the Comptroller of Customs on payment of the amount of the duty so assessed by him subject to adjustment of same on production of evidence to his satisfaction of the actual amount of such charges within six months of the date of entry of the goods.
	6. Invoices and other documents relating to the importation of goods may be retained by the Comptroller of Customs.
	7. Without prejudice to any right of final appeal contained in section 15 of the Customs Ordinance, 1906, the Comptroller of Customs shall decide any dispute which may arise as to the rate of duty to be assessed or dues to be charged on a particular article imported or re-exported whether specifically mentioned or not in these schedules.
	8. No import duty shall be levied or collected upon the goods set forth in Table VI hereto.
	9. Where the import duty amounts to less than 3d., a sum of 3d. shall be charged, and where such duty exceeds 3d. or any multiple thereof an additional 3d. shall be charged, in lieu of such excess; provided that in the case of goods imported by post the minimum duty shall be 3d. and thereafter duty shall be calculated to the penny next above.
	10. A rebate of the full import duty on all goods lawfully re-imported into the Protectorate shall be allowed upon the following conditions:— (1) That a certificate containing a full description of the articles to be re-imported be obtained from a Customs Officer at the time of exportation, which certificate must be produced on re-importation. (2) That the articles re-imported are those actually described in the certificate and are re-imported within eighteen months from the date of exportation.
	11. A drawback of the full import duty paid on all goods other than perishables lawfully imported into the Protectorate shall be allowed if such goods are exported by the importer thereof within twelve months of the first entry of such goods: provided that, with the exception of commercial representatives' motor vehicles and samples, theatrical properties and articles imported by tourists for their own use, such goods shall not have been used in the Protectorate.

NOTES.

For the purpose of ascertaining the horse-power of any motor-car deriving its motive power wholly from a steam, internal combustion or other engine worked by a cylinder or cylinders there shall be taken :—

- (i) in the case of a single-cylinder engine, the horse-power attributable to the cylinder of the engine;
- (ii) in the case of an engine having two or more cylinders, the sum of the horse-powers attributable to the separate cylinders.

The horse-power attributable to any cylinder shall be deemed to be proportional to the square of the internal diameter of such cylinder measured in inches, and shall be determined according to the number of square inches contained in such square, the unit being taken to be :—

- (iii) in the case of a single-acting cylinder having a single piston, one horse-power for every $2\frac{1}{2}$ square inches;
- (iv) in the case of a single-acting cylinder having two pistons, one horse-power for every $1\frac{1}{2}$ square inches;
- (v) in the case of a double-acting cylinder having a single piston, one horse-power for every $1\frac{1}{4}$ square inches.

Any motor vehicle deriving its motive power or any part of its motive power otherwise than from an engine worked by a cylinder or cylinders shall be deemed to be of a horse-power exceeding 12 but not exceeding 15, provided that, where the motive power is derived in the part from an engine worked by a cylinder or cylinders the horse-power of the vehicle shall not be deemed to be less than the horse-power attributable to the cylinder or cylinders of such engine.

Where it appears that in consequence of the exceptional design or construction of the engine of any motor vehicle the horse-power as calculated under the foregoing rules is substantially less than the power which the engine is actually capable of developing, the horse-power of the vehicle shall for the purposes of these regulations be taken to be the same as that of a vehicle of equal efficiency deriving its motive power from a cylinder engine of the ordinary type.

In measuring cylinders and calculating horse-power, fractions of an inch and fractions of an unit of horse-power are to be taken into account.

For purposes of duty a fraction of an unit of horse-power shall be taken as one horse-power, except under item 12 (1).

The duty on whisky, brandy, rum and gin shall be calculated on the proof strength as shewn by Sikes' hydrometer at as low a temperature as possible. When such spirits are mixed with colouring, sweetening or other matter in solution tending to conceal the actual strength, an addition of 5 per cent. shall be made to the apparent strength as shewn by the hydrometer in lieu of the test for obscuration.

Six reputed quart bottles or twelve reputed pints shall be assumed to contain one liquid gallon.

Reputed 12 oz., 14 oz., and 16 oz. packets of candles to be deemed to be of those weights respectively.

Goods chargeable with duty by weight shall, except where otherwise provided for, be charged with duty on the net weight, which may be arrived at either by weighing net, or deducting from the gross weight the actual tare or an average tare agreed to by the importer.

A complete article imported in an unassembled condition is liable to the rate of duty which would be applicable to that article if imported in a fully set-up condition, notwithstanding that the constituent parts are packed separately and are provided for elsewhere in the tariff.

A rental of 10/- per annum (1st January to 31st December) must be paid in advance, and if the renter requires the bag to be made up at more than one Post Office, a separate rental will be chargeable for each office. In respect of new services rental is charged for the unexpired portion of the year, any portion of a quarter being considered a full quarter. All rentals are renewable on the 1st of January each year. The bag may be used for letters for persons in the neighbourhood of the renter's residence, at an extra charge of 10/- a year for each person, provided that the permission of the renter is given to the Postmaster in writing. 	(e). Registered packages are usually not delivered until receipts therefor are obtained. An exception is made in the case of private post bags, the packets being enclosed therein with the relative receipt slips, provided the renter indemnifies the Postmaster in writing from all liability and guarantees to return the receipts by first post. The forwarding of parcels can similarly be arranged, but the Postmaster will use his discretion, based principally on the circumstances of conveyance, as to whether he will send out bulky or fragile parcels attached to the bag, or require them to be called for at his office.
	(f). The renter must provide for the bag being met on its arrival at the appointed place and for the return bag being handed to the proper officer on its return journey. Under no circumstance can the means of conveyance be kept waiting at any point en route should the bag not be ready for despatch, nor will a detour from a recognized route be made to deliver a private post bag.
	(g). Transfer of a private post bag can be effected only on a written request of the registered holder, and with the authority of the Postmaster-General.
	(h). At offices where private boxes are installed a private post bag cannot be rented by any resident without a private box being rented in addition.
	(i). All applications for private post bags should be made to the Postmaster of the office from which the service is desired : and that officer will obtain the authority of the Postmaster-General before instituting the service.
	(j). In the event of the above conditions not being complied with, or if in the opinion of the Postmaster-General improper use is being made of the bag, the Postmaster-General may discontinue the service forthwith.
	PRIVATE BOXES.—		Gazette Notice No. 185 of 1921
	1. CONDITIONS OF RENTAL.—Private Post Office Boxes may be rented at certain Post Offices, and the renter of a Private Post Office Box will accept the lease under the following conditions, and will forfeit all rights by non-compliance or failure to carry out any or all of the rules hereinafter set forth. He will be held responsible for the observance of the regulations, and no other person will be recognized in connection therewith.
	(a). The rental fee for the box, is £1 1s. small box, £2 2s. for large box per annum, which is payable in advance, and is calculated to 31st December in each year, any portion of a calendar quarter being considered as a full quarter.
	(b). The hours for access to Private Post Office Boxes may be varied at any time by the Postmaster-General.
	(c). A box may not be rented in a fictitious name, or for an improper purpose.
	(d). The transfer of Private Post Office Box rights from one Post Office to another is not permitted ; and the transfer of a box from one person to another is subject to the approval of the Postmaster-General and will only be considered in cases of bona fide change of business or other sufficient reasons.
	(e). No two persons, unless they are in business partnership, can jointly rent one private box, and persons or firms trading under two or more designations may be required to rent a box for each designation. Under this regulation any group of companies having a joint management may be required to rent a separate box for each company.
	(f). Delivery into a Private Post Office Box is in all respects equivalent to personal delivery to the addressee.
	(g). Mail matter will be placed in a box only when addressed to the renter of the box, or to his care, or specially addressed to the number of the box.
	(h). A person not being a renter, whose mail matter is

Mail matter delivered in error, or accidentally addressed to a wrong box, must be immediately reposted, with the words "Not for box" written thereon. Should a case come under notice where this is not done or flagrant neglect is shown by the renter or person in possession of the key in detaining or delaying such mail matter, the box may be declared forfeited and the return of the keys demanded. (j). In exceptional circumstances—the loss of a key for instance—mail matter from any private box may temporarily be delivered at the counter, subject to compliance with the provisions of paragraph (k). (k). Unless the renter be well known, or be identified by some one known to a responsible officer of the Department, the only admitted "proof of identification" shall be the receipt for the box rent. (l). Mail matter will be re-addressed from one box to another only in exceptional circumstances, and upon application to the Postmaster-General. Postmasters are not obliged to re-address mail matter unless the box be closed. (m). A Private Post Office Box is provided exclusively for the reception of mail matter which has passed through the Post. Any private articles deposited therein by a renter will be surcharged as if posted out of course. (n). When a box is let two keys are supplied both of which are required to be returned to the Postmaster when the box is given up. Additional keys are only supplied upon payment of 2/- each. If a key is lost information must at once be given to the Postmaster in order that a new lock may be fitted, for which a charge of 5/6 will be payable. (o). No lock may be placed on any box other than a lock supplied by the Department, and no repairs to a box may be executed except by the Department. (p). The renter of a box must defray all expenses for damage to such box or to locks or keys thereof, if caused by him or due to his negligence. (q). The Postmaster-General may refuse to let or re-let a box to any person without assigning any reason for such refusal. (r). The foregoing conditions may at any time be augmented or revised, as the Postmaster-General may from time to time deem expedient, by notification in the Post Office Guide; and any such addition or revision shall apply to every box rented under the foregoing conditions.	E s. d.	Post Office Ordinance, 1916 Gazette Notice No. 185 of 1921

NOTE.—Maize is the staple foodstuff in most districts; groundnuts, rice, wheat, beans, and various other crops are also grown by natives for local consumption, but it is impossible to make an accurate estimate of the quantities of any of these crops.

The above tobacco figures represent the quantities purchased in each district, and do not accurately reflect production by districts, as many natives grow their tobacco in one district and sell in another.

General information regarding the industry and the possibilities of development.

Many different types of forest are to be found in the Protectorate, ranging from the small dense evergreen mountain forests to the very open acacia or Palm tree savannah of the lake-shore plains. Most of the forests, however, are dry and open types and many are composed almost entirely of small trees which are of little commercial value except for supplying poles and fuel for local use. Most of the species of trees contained in the forests are common to neighbouring territories, and some of them are to be found so far away as South Africa, Angola and Kenya.

Trees of suitable dimensions and quality for conversion into sawn-timber are scarce, and in many localities are principally confined to the banks of streams or to damp ravines on hill slopes. On Mlanje mountain, chiefly confined to gullies and ravines, are small patches of forest containing the valuable coniferous tree Widdringtonia Whytei (Mlanje cypress) which attains large dimensions and provides a strong, durable "softwood" timber. These forests are under the management of the Forest Department for supplying building timber to the Public Works Department; they are insufficient in extent to allow of concessions being granted to the public for exploitation, although small quantities of sawn cypress timber are available for sale from time to time.

There is no timber available for export. Timber and wood imports in 1931 were valued at £5,291 compared with £7,063 in 1930.

A very considerable portion of the Protectorate consists of hilly and broken country in which the forests play a very important part in regulating water-supplies and in preventing soil erosion. In all such hilly regions shifting cultivation is practised by the inhabitants and is admittedly necessary in the absence of terracing and other such measures on their part for soil retention, but in some localities there is a grave danger of disastrous effects resulting from the wholesale clearing of forest from steep slopes and it has been found necessary to regulate such clearing.

* This figure comprises only the accessible patches of Widdringtonia forest on Mlanje Mountain and government and privately-owned forest plantations. It is impossible to give an acreage for riparian forest which consists usually of only a single line of trees, or for commercial timbers scattered throughout some of the savannah and other types of forest.

† Open woodland and savannah types, some of which contain a certain amount of commercial timber scattered throughout them.

Scattered throughout the Protectorate there are thirty-eight forest reserves having an aggregate area of some 2,500 square miles. These reserves are mostly important catchment areas and have been reserved mainly with the object of maintaining or improving water-supplies. Some of them contain forest of a somewhat better quality than the general poor types.

A scheme for the institution of village communal forests (called Village Forest Areas) is showing marked progress. Under this scheme small, widely-scattered areas of forests are being selected and demarcated by village headmen assisted by district foresters. When approved by the divisional forest officer the areas are allocated by the District Commissioner to the headmen, who are then each responsible for the protection and management of their own area under simple plans advised by the Forest Department. At the end of 1931 there were 1,075 areas registered, of which 925 had been definitely allocated to villages.

The Forest laws (the Forest Ordinance, 1926 and its supplementary Forest Rules, 1926) provide for the protection of Forest Reserves; Village Forest Areas; all trees growing within 30 yards of a river or stream; and certain scheduled species of trees on other Crown lands. Apart from these restrictions natives are allowed to cut trees and forest produce for their own use without licence or payment, but non-natives are required to pay royalties on all scheduled forest produce taken from Crown land.

Forest plantations continue to be established by European settlers throughout the Protectorate; mainly for the production of fuel necessary for tobacco curing and also for complying with the afforestation covenants contained in Government leases. Government plantations exist at various centres, their aggregate area being over 1,700 acres, and further afforestation is being conducted (1) in the planting up of Widdringtonia forest following exploitation and (2) in systematic trial plantings of selected indigenous and exotic species of trees with a view to ascertaining their comparative value for afforestation purposes under various climatic and edaphic conditions. In addition, a great deal of other silvicultural experimental work is being carried out in all divisions of the Forest Department. Natives are being encouraged to form communal plantations in localities where insufficient natural forest remains for the allocation of effective "village forest areas," and for this purpose plants and seeds are distributed free of charge from government nurseries in many districts. Tree seeds are sold to the public by the Forestry Department and advice on forestry matters is given whenever asked for.

The only forest industry of any importance is the extraction of timber and firewood for local use. There are no forest sawmills, the trees being converted into portable dimensions by hand-sawing at the place where they are felled. Firewood is the general fuel and enormous quantities are consumed in tobacco-curing; brick-making; lake transport etc, as well as in domestic use. Vast quantities of poles and bamboos are used by the native population in the building of their huts, which invariably have to be renewed every three or four years, or even more frequently. Most native domestic articles are made from local timber, and near the shores of Lakes Nyasa and Shirwa, and along the banks of a few of the larger rivers, canoes are made in the form of hollowed-out tree trunks. The fibrous barks of various trees are used by the natives as a string for binding purposes and most of the numerous native medicines are derived from forest products.

Furniture, chiefly of mahogany (Khaya nyasica), is manufactured by some of the missions and by native cabinet makers for local sale. Mats for local trade are weaved from palm leaves by natives living in localities where palms are plentiful, and there is also a small local trade in baskets and wicker-work made from split bamboos and reeds, and in curios fashioned from African ebony (Dalbergia melanoxylon) and other hard woods. Strophanthus seeds and beeswax are collected by natives for sale to local traders and small quantities of these products are exported annually.

Water power is utilized by the Government for the generation of electric light and power for use in Zomba. Private persons in various districts use water power for running saw mills, grinding meal, ginning cotton and preparing sisal fibre for the market.

6. INDUSTRIAL ESTABLISHMENTS AND MANUFACTORIES.

(so far as not included under sub-sections 1-5 above).

Industry.	Number of Establishments or Manufactories.	Number of persons employed.	Cost of Raw Materials used.	Output during the year.
				Quantity.	Net selling value at factory or works.

In the strict sense of the term there are no industrial establishments or manufactoryes in the Protectorate. Furniture, baskets, etc., are made at the missions and elsewhere; mats and pottery by natives in certain districts; maize meal and beer are made by natives throughout the Protectorate for their own use.

There are fourteen ginneries in the country, but only seven of them worked in 1931 and they handled 15,019 cwts of lint cotton. 19,583 cwts. of tea were manufactured in the Mlanje district almost entirely.

7. SUMMARY OF INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT.

A summarised statement of any developments in the agricultural, forestal, fishing, mining, and other industries of the Protectorate during the year under review, with a statement as to progress up to date. A special account should be given of government grants or other action for the development of the natural resources and industries of the Protectorate.

Tobacco, cotton and tea are the most important crops grown for export.

With the aid of grants from the Colonial Development Fund bored wells and dug wells are being constructed for the relief of natives in the drier parts of Northern and Southern Provinces, as well as for the opening up of new areas for native settlement.
